

THANKYOU LADIES!

THIS FORTNIGHT'S BLOG IS GOING TO LOOK A LITTLE DIFFERENT! WE HAVE HAD SOME PRETTY BIG EVENTS, WEEKENDS AND WEEKS HAPPEN SO FAR THIS YEAR AND OUR PARTY GIRLS ARE YET TO LET US DOWN.

They are the kind of people who step up to every opportunity and everything that we ask of them week in and week out! We really are so lucky. This may sound like a bit of a brag about our wonderful staff and truth be told it is!

Our Party Girl's Week starts on Monday where they receive and check over their job sheets to ensure they are sorted and on track for the week. They will then check in the morning of the event they are attending, and we give out any last-minute instructions from clients that they might need to know. Then! They arrive to the event and wow our clients every single time with their confidence and kind demeanor towards children and adults alike. Their crafting and artsy skills are amazing as well I must say.

These guys are our front liners and the faces of the company and brand and are continuously creating the smiles that we pride ourselves in! So, this week is just a big thank you to them! Working in the entertainment industry has proven to be pretty difficult in this new world! Our Party Girls have adapted so quickly to all the new processes and procedures we had to employ to keep everyone safe and have stuck it out through all the quiet periods and lockdowns. So that is it. Thank you, ladies, for your hard work and dedication but also all of the giggles!
